Student Led Firm Looking for Client

C y b e r n e t i c Communication Consulting, a nonprofit communication consulting firm, is currently seeking local businesses to perform an audit on its communication culture.

A communication audit will entail a detailed analysis of an organization's internal and external communication and offers solutions to their client, if needed.

For 29 years, Purdue University Northwest's Problems in Public Relations class has been helping local businesses improve their communication culture. Previous clientele includes, but is not limited to, Franciscan Health, BP, NIPSCO and Griffith Police Department in Griffith, Indiana.

Alisa Murchek, vice president of patient services and chief nursing officer at Franciscan Health, hired one of PNW's affiliated communication consulting firms last year.

"Any hospital or entity who wishes to improve their customer experience or employee engagement would benefit with this consultation," said Murchek.

To perform the analysis, CCC will conduct benchmark reports, interviews, surveys and focus groups to collect and analyze data to strengthen the communication processes within an organization.

"They were professional, well-organized and their research was amazing," said Murchek. "In the end, our data resulted in a 695-page book which has been invaluable. The way they have the book set up allows you to find just what you need as you need it."

CCC is committed to cultivating a more effective communication culture.

CCC is currently searching for a client. For more information about the services provided by Cybernetic Communication Consulting, please contact the organization at 219-501-0632 or email at cybercomconsulting@gmail.com.

Screaming Monkey Comics Returns

S C R E A M I N G MONKEY COMICS announces its grand opening Saturday, September 28 in Munster, Indiana.

Owned and operated by John and Christina Yeo, Screaming Monkey Comics is not a stranger to the region. They originally opened in Crown Point, Indiana in 2002. Due to the economic recession of 2008, the Yeo's reluctantly decided to close the business.

One decade and one daughter later, the Yeo's accepted that they're still in love with the industry and wanted to give it one more try.

"It's not often that any business manages to return to life after it had to close, let alone after eleven years," said co-owner John Yeo. "But it's something my wife and I still have a passion for. Munster was desperately needing a hobby store of its own, so we decided to answer the call."

"What we missed the most was being able to expose young children to graphic novels, which often lead them towards serious literature," added his wife, co-owner Christina Yeo. "And the organized games we used to sponsor did a lot more for socialization skills than a video game would. We want to bring that back to the area, and that's why we returned to business."

Screaming Monkey Comics will be holding a grand opening celebration on September 28. There will be door prizes, stacks of free comics to be given away, we'll be hosting some organized game events, and there will be a signing appearance by manga artist Sanzaki Kojika. There will probably also be cookies.

Screaming Monkey Comics re-opened on September 7, and is currently open daily from 12 – 8 through the week, and 12 – 6 on Sunday. They are located at 21 Ridge Road in Munster, directly across the street from Strack & Van Til's. They can be found on their website at www.screamingmonkeycomics.com, or on their official Faceook page. Additional information can be reached by calling the family at 219 301-7920, or contacting them at screamerboy@hotmail.com.

Purdue Recognized in Best College Rankings

Purdue University Northwest (PNW) once again has been recognized among the best regional universities in the U.S. News & World Report Best Colleges rankings, released today.

PNW ranks 52nd nationally among the Best Engineering Programs, of engineering schools whose highest degree is a bachelor's or master's degree. PNW's undergraduate business program has also been rated as one of the top programs among those accredited by the Association to Advance Collegiate Schools of Business (AACSB).

"Purdue Northwest is committed to academic excellence, and the recognition of these high-performing academic programs further validates the quality of our faculty members, facilities and the education our students receive," PNW Chancellor Thomas L. Keon said. "PNW is proud to be recognized among such significant higher education peers."

U.S. News ranks undergraduate engineering programs accredited by ABET, a non-profit, non-governmental organization that accredits college and university programs. The rankings are based on surveys of engineering deans and senior faculty at accredited programs. PNW, ranked No. 52 in the country, received a 2.9 peer assessment score on a 5-point scale, sharing the position with 15 other programs.

U.S. News ranks undergraduate business programs based on surveys of business school deans and senior faculty. PNW received a 2.4 peer assessment score on a 5-point scale.

PNW is included in the ranking among Midwest regional universities and received a 2.8 peer assessment score on a 5-point scale, which is in the second tier of this group.

PNW also is included in the U.S. News online-only rankings of campus ethnic diversity among regional universities – Midwest, with a 0.55 diversity index. Keon noted that PNW is one of the most diverse universities in Indiana, with nearly 44 percent of its core student body comprised of minority and international populations.

Purdue University Northwest (PNW) is a student-centered university that values academic excellence, supports growth and celebrates diversity. Located in Northwest Indiana, near Chicago, PNW fosters a vibrant academic community through high quality and engaging undergraduate and graduate education. Hurricane Dorian Causes Blood Shortage

As the American Red Cross works around the clock supporting those impacted by Hurricane Dorian, providing food, shelter and comfort, individuals outside the affected areas are urged to help by giving blood or platelets to ensure patients in the storm's path and around the country have access to lifesaving blood. People can also help by making a financial donation to support relief efforts.

Hurricane Dorian has forced the closure of blood donation centers and the cancellation of blood drives in its path, causing blood and platelet donations to go uncollected. When blood donations are disrupted in a region of the country, the Red Cross is able to move blood donations where they are needed most.

Donors of all blood types are urgently needed to ensure a sufficient supply for patients. Type O and B blood donors are especially needed. Make an appointment to donate blood now by downloading the free Red Cross Blood Donor App, visiting RedCrossBlood.org, calling 1-800-RED CROSS (1-800-733-2767) or enabling the Blood Donor Skill on any Alexa Echo device.

Financial donations are also needed and allow the Red Cross to make a difference in the lives of people impacted by Hurricane Dorian. Visit redcross.org, call 1-800-RED CROSS or text the word DORIAN to 90999 to make a $10 donation. Financial donations enable the Red Cross to prepare for, respond to and help people recover from this disaster.

Up-to-date information about how the Red Cross is responding to Hurricane Dorian is available at redcross.org.

Simply download the American Red Cross Blood Donor App, visit RedCrossBlood.org, call 1-800-RED CROSS (1-800-733-2767) or enable the Blood Donor Skill on any Alexa Echo device to make an appointment or for more information. All blood types are needed to ensure a reliable supply for patients. A blood donor card or driver's license or two other forms of identification are required at check-in. Individuals who are 17 years of age in most states (16 with parental consent where allowed by state law), weigh at least 110 pounds and are in generally good health may be eligible to donate blood. High school students and other donors 18 years of age and younger also have to meet certain height and weight requirements.

Blood and platelet donors can save time at their next donation by using RapidPass® to complete their pre-donation reading and health history questionnaire online, on the day of their donation, before arriving at the blood drive. To get started, follow the instructions at RedCrossBlood.org/RapidPass or use the Blood Donor App.

First Bicycle Repair Station in Hammond

Due to a gift from the United Citizens Association, Inc. (UCA), users of Hammond's growing system of bicycle trails can now inflate tires, make adjustments and even repairs. The DERO Fix it Station is located along the Wolf Lake Trail near the guardhouse.

DERO Fix it Stations includes all the tools necessary to perform basic bike repairs and maintenance, from changing a flat to adjusting brakes and derailleurs. Housed in a modified well casing, tools are securely attached to the stand with stainless steel cables and tamper-proof fasteners. The Fix it station also allows users to hang the bike from hanger arms which allows the pedals and wheels to spin freely while making adjustments. The station also features a heavy-duty air pump with a 1-inch solid pump shaft. The unit's bright red paint makes it stand out and quite visible.

“The UCA has a long history of providing and promoting improvements to the community, in particular Robertsdale” noted Mayor Thomas M. McDermott, Jr. “Its members actually established Hammond’s first bike path in 1974 along Sheffield Avenue, were advocates of the George Lake Trail, and many other community improvements such as the hanging baskets along 119th Street in Robertsdale, and I appreciate their continued commitment to making our city a better place to live and visit. As an avid bicycling enthusiast, I was impressed by how heavy-duty and durable the fix-it station is.”

Tom Dabertin, UCA Vice President stated: “The UCA supports Mayor McDermott’s efforts to make Hammond a destination for bicyclists. Hammond offers one of the biggest and best trail systems in the State of Indiana, and it is our hope that this is the first of several fix-it stations in Hammond and that the trend continues to neighboring communities in the future.” The UCA organizes the annual Ride and Rail Tour to Chicago in cooperation with the Northern Indiana Commuter Transportation District (NICTD) and was instrumental in establishment of the WHAM Ride.
