Recycling Summit Comes to Hammond

Mayor Thomas M. McDermott, Jr. along with Hammond Public Works and Republic Services invite everyone in Lake County to join us for an education on recycling being held on Thursday, October 24 from 6:30 pm until 8:00 pm at the Hammond Sportsplex and Community Center, 6630 Indianapolis Boulevard. During the Recycling Summit, you will learn what you can and cannot recycle and an expert panel will answer all of your questions. There will be interactive fun, videos and give aways. This event is open to all ages.

"When we visited the Republic Services processing plant, it was a big eye opener for us. We learned about many things we were doing incorrectly as recycling citizens, and we decided to pass that information along to the residents of Lake County. This will benefit our municipal recycling programs and help save the environment as well," says Mayor McDermott.

Our expert panel consists of: Mayor McDermott of Hammond, Doug Rosenbaum of Republic Recycling, Gary Gleason the Hammond Director of Public Works and Johnny Perez, Deputy Director of Hammond Public Works. This event will be live streamed on Facebook Live and then made available to the public afterward on gohammond.tv.

"The Recycling Summit will be run like one of my monthly Mayor's Night Out Town Hall event meetings. That means we will take written questions from the audience and have a Facilitator with a microphone ask the questions and follow them up with additional questions on the written topics," says Mayor McDermott.

Future Students Can Explore Purdue

Purdue University Northwest (PNW) invites high school students and their families interested in learning more about the university to attend one of two upcoming Preview PNW events.

"Preview PNW offers a unique opportunity for future students and their families to gather a full understanding of the education and resources PNW offers," said Executive Director of Undergraduate Admissions Karen Stachyra. "These events offer a chance to meet with faculty members, current students, staff and alumni to ask questions and to learn how PNW values student success."

Preview PNW will be held at the Hammond Campus on Saturday, Oct. 19 starting at the Student Union and Library Building, 2233 173rd Street. The Preview PNW at the Westville Campus will take place on Saturday, Nov. 16 starting at the James B. Dworkin Student Services and Activities Complex, 1401 U.S. Highway 421. On both dates, check-in will begin at 8 a.m. and programming begins at 8:30 a.m.

The event is free and open to prospective students of all ages and their families. Attendees will tour the PNW campus and learn about undergraduate programs; campus life and housing options; the admissions process, financial aid and available scholarships; NCAA Division II athletics; PNW's Honors College; study abroad opportunities and more.

Registration is encouraged via the Preview PNW website at www.pnw.edu/preview.

Purdue University Northwest (PNW) is a student-centered university that values academic excellence, supports growth and celebrates diversity. Located in Northwest Indiana, near Chicago, PNW fosters a vibrant academic community through high quality and engaging undergraduate and graduate education. Crusader Hoops in Hammond Event

Valparaiso University Athletic Department has announced plans to hold an event for the men's and women's basketball programs at the Hammond Civic Center on Wednesday, Oct. 16 in partnership with the Boys & Girls Clubs of Greater Northwest Indiana and the City of Hammond.

The event, known as "Crusader Hoops in Hammond," will be held from 3:30-6:30 p.m. and is free and open to the public. Children will have an opportunity to take the court with the teams and learn tips and tricks from Division I student-athletes while meeting their favorite Valpo players.

"We are thrilled to partner with the Boys & Girls Clubs to bring the Region's Division I teams to the historic Hammond Civic Center again this year," Valparaiso University Director of Athletics Mark LaBarbera said. "We are especially looking forward to seeing our Lake County fans out at the event. It will be a great way to help kick off our 2019-2020 men's and women's basketball seasons."

The Crusader mascot will be in attendance and a photo booth will be available. Prizes and giveaway items will add to the excitement for fans who attend.

"Boys & Girls Clubs of Greater Northwest Indiana has held a long-standing partnership with Valparaiso University and the University's Athletic Department," Boys & Girls Club of Greater Northwest Indiana President and CEO Ryan Smiley said. "With service and service learning being very important to students of Valpo, our Clubs often interact with students and student-athletes for various projects. However, we are proud to take our partnership with Valparaiso University's Athletic Department one step further by participating in the Young Crusaders Club. This gives our Club members a look at what going to college is all about, and how sports and active lifestyles can contribute to their higher education careers. We look forward to being a part of the 'Crusader Hoops in Hammond' event."

Students Donate to Humane Society

Dance Magic Dance, ne of the many dogs available for adoption, interested in Cybernetic Communication Consulting's donation box.

Picture provided.

Six board members from Cybernetic Communication Consulting (CCC) firm spent Saturday morning at PNW's campus in Hammond, Indiana decorating toys for the Humane Society Munster.

Using Sharpie pens, CCC board members decorated 150 ping pong balls. The total donated toys for cats and dogs was 170 which included store-bought items.

Samantha Feldman, reception manager of Humane Society Munster, welcomed the donation with one of the canine residents, Dance Magic Dance, a one-year-old spayed mixed-breed female.

"Item donations are very exciting because items can go directly to the animals or be used by the shelter right away," said Feldman. "As a non-profit, Humane Indiana is 100% dependent on donations."

CCC board members spent the rest of the afternoon socializing with Dance Magic Dance and the rest of the residents of the Humane Society.

Hailey Bengtson, secretary of Cybernetic

Communication Consulting, considered the event not only as a team-building experience, but also as a "fantastic way" to support the animals of the community.

"At our event, we laughed, we crafted, we listened to great music, but most importantly, we provided cute toys for animals who will appreciate them," said Bengtson.

The student led non-profit communication firm was designed to improve the communication culture with local businesses by performing a communication audit. The audit will entail a detailed analysis of an organization's internal and external communication and offers solutions to their client, if needed.

For more information about the services provided, please contact the organization at 219-501-0632 or email at cybercomconsulting@gmail.com.

Donate Blood to Help Fight Cancer

During Breast Cancer Awareness Month this October, the American Red Cross urges eligible donors to give blood or platelets to provide hope and healing to patients fighting cancer.

Breast cancer is the second most common cancer in women, and more than 268,000 women are expected to be diagnosed with breast cancer this year.

In August 2016, Myel Bowers-Smith went to the doctor for what she thought was a breast infection for a mosquito bite after a vacation in Cancun. Instead, she received the devastating diagnosis – she had stage 4 inflammatory breast cancer, a very rare and aggressive breast carcinoma. Bowers-Smith, a U.S. Army veteran, committed to fighting for her life. “Once I began fighting, I knew I had to remain strong,” she said. Her aggressive care plan included five different chemotherapy treatments and steroids.

Like many patients with cancer, Bower-Smith needed multiple blood product transfusions. Cancer patients undergoing surgery and chemotherapy may require red blood cell or platelet transfusions. In fact, more than half of all platelets collected by the Red Cross are used by patients with cancer.

After months of grueling treatments, in August 2017, Bowers-Smith celebrated the news that her cancer was in remission. Today, she enjoys sharing her story and encouraging others to be a blessing by donating blood or platelets. “Eligible donors, you have something good – which is your blood. A pint of blood can help save lives.”

Donors of all blood types, especially platelet donors and those with type O blood, are needed to ensure a stable supply for cancer patients and others this fall. Appointments can be made by downloading the free Red Cross Blood Donor App, visiting RedCrossBlood.org, calling 1-800-RED CROSS (1-800-733-2767) or enabling the Blood Donor Skill on any Alexa Echo device.

As a thank-you, those who come to give blood or platelets during the month of October will automatically be entered for a chance to win one of five $500 gift cards redeemable at hundreds of merchants, courtesy of Tango Card. Terms apply; see rcblood.org/game.

The Defamation Experience

Purdue University Northwest (PNW) offers a unique, interactive play celebrating diversity, "The Defamation Experience," at 6 p.m. on Monday, Oct. 21. The event will take place in Alumni Hall in the Student Union & Library, 2233 173rd Street on the Hammond Campus. The event is free and open to the public.

"The Defamation Experience" is a two-hour interactive courtroom drama played out by the actors of Canamac Productions where race, class, religion, and gender collide. The event will feature a play, a deliberation where the audience members determine the outcome of the trial, and a post-show discussion as well as light refreshments after the performance. The premise of the play is a civil suit that puts prejudices and assumptions under a powerful lens, and encourages self-examination as the audience moves through the process with the actors.

"We hope to generate honest and meaningful dialogue that will go beyond this event and readily incorporate issues of diversity and inclusion into everyday conversations, pedagogy and business practices," said Linda Knox, Executive Director in the Office of Equity, Diversity and Inclusion at PNW, which is sponsoring the event.

For more information, contact the PNW Office of Equity, Diversity and Inclusion at 219-989-2163. To request a disability related accommodation for the event, please contact the Office of Equity, Diversity and Inclusion at edi@pnw.edu or by phone at 219-989-2163 or 219-785-5545.

Fall Safety Seminar by NWIBRT

An association of many of the region's leading construction and industrial firms is planning to educate other NWI companies about the latest developments in gas hazards and technology.

The Northwest Indiana Business RoundTable (NWIBRT), which is an association of dozens of businesses that come together to collaborate on safety, is welcoming all project managers, safety experts, field supervisors, and others that want to learn about new safety best practices to attend its Fall Safety Seminar.

Pete Engelbert of Job Safety Associates and Jim Moody of Industrial Scientific will be presenting the latest information about topics such as gas detection, sensor technology, sampling techniques, gas stratification and pocketing, peer to peer communication, live monitoring, and more.

The event is scheduled for October 31st at the Purdue University Northwest campus in Hammond. To register, please visit: <https://nwibrt.org/event/fall-seminar-gas-detection/>.

Sponsors include the Construction Advancement Foundation (CAF), Brock Industrial, Pekron Consulting, and Total Safety.

The Northwest Indiana Business RoundTable (NWIBRT) is an independent, non-profit council of local firms committed to the improvement of construction and maintenance projects in Northwest Indiana. Its purpose is to promote safety, quality, and cost-effective solutions to challenges faced by owners, contractors, and labor in the region.

PNW Establishes New Scholarship

Purdue University Northwest (PNW) faculty member John Cox has turned his passion for the chemical coatings field into opportunities for PNW students. Cox, a past president of the Chicago Society for Coatings Technology, has established the Dr. John Cox Chicago Society for Coatings Technology scholarship.

Cox, who earned a doctorate degree in organic chemistry from the University of Louisville and has been active in the chemical coatings industry for more than 40 years, has a unique understanding of this continually evolving field. From household paints made with organic compounds to applications providing soundproofing for military aircraft, he believes that the chemical coatings specialty promises endless job opportunities for new graduates.

Creating a scholarship became a top priority for Cox after hearing from numerous colleagues that there is growing demand for young people to enter this field.

"Companies need young and forward-thinking people," Cox said. "There is a bright future for students interested in coatings, and I hope this new scholarship will pique the interest of students at Purdue Northwest."

With jobs available throughout the Chicagoland area, the Midwest and beyond, the objective is to match students with industry leaders looking for new talent. Cox routinely helps students find jobs.

"Through networking and introducing students to distributors, I am able to help match up students with employers who are desperately seeking new talent," Cox said.

Cox teaches courses in coatings and resin in the Chemistry department at PNW. He also currently is a consultant at Aqua Coat in Elgin, Ill., and a member of the Chicago Paint and Coatings Association.

Purna Das, professor of Physics and chairman of the Chemistry and Physics department at PNW, describes Cox as "a true friend and benefactor of the department for many years."

"We are truly grateful for his generous donation and for caring about our students," Das commented.

Purdue University Northwest (PNW) is a student-centered university that values academic excellence, supports growth and celebrates diversity. Located in Northwest Indiana, near Chicago, PNW fosters a vibrant academic community through high quality and engaging undergraduate and graduate education. Embezzler Teaches Companies About Theft

More than 84% of companies surveyed worldwide have experienced fraud* but few ever get the chance to learn how it really happens. Coming up on November 13th, business leaders will have an opportunity to gain firsthand perspectives about fraud and employee theft from someone who has committed the acts.

Barry J. Webne, an experienced corporate controller and a twice-convicted embezzler, will be educating companies about how to identify and safeguard against fraud during a business breakfast event that will be held at the Avalon Manor in Merrillville, sponsored by Lake City Bank.

On two occasions, Webne was convicted of embezzling more than $1 million from his employers and served time in federal prison. Today he trains, lectures to, and consults with financial and managerial professionals across the United States and Canada and has written four books relating to the prevention and detection of occupational fraud and employee theft. This will be his first time presenting in Northwest Indiana.

Attendees consisting of executives, HR, financial personnel, and others, will be learning about how to implement effective internal controls, segregate duties for small businesses, identify behavioral and psychological red flags, and other helpful tips that can save companies money.

The event is scheduled for November 13th at the Avalon Manor in Merrillville, IN. To register, please visit breakfastwithanembezzler.eventbrite.com.

Explore the Vatican with Bishop Noll

Bishop Noll Institute will host Vatican City – A Pictorial Tour from 4 to 6 p.m. Oct. 27 at St. John the Evangelist Church. Guests will be transported from their seats in Northwest Indiana to Vatican City, the top tour destination in the world.

The special lecture and pictorial tour will offer a view of the seat of Catholicism through the lens and descriptions of degreed and certified Vatican guides

Explore Vatican City’s history and evolution as an independent country, the smallest in the world; tour select galleries of the Vatican and the collections of the Popes; learn about the Sistine Chapel and St. Peter’s Basilica, the largest Catholic church in the world.

A reception with the guides, who will travel to Northwest Indiana from Italy for this event, will begin at 3 p.m. Guide Giuliano Catapano has spent his entire adult life studying Rome, its history and topography. He is an accredited guide of Rome, its monuments and Vatican City. Guide Floriana Hakim has studied in England, France and Spain and has worked as a tour guide in Rome for the past 15 years. She is an official guide for the Vatican Museums and was chosen as only one of 10 Vatican “Patron of the Arts” guides.

Admission is $25 per person and tickets are available online at bishopnoll.org.

Proceeds will benefit Bishop Noll’s Ignite & Inspire Campaign.

The church is at 10701 Olcott Ave. in St. John. For more information on tickets, call (219) 932-9058 or email advancement@bishopnoll.org.
